

Kioritz

Most common use for this is in the application of systemic insecticides, such as Cygon, used to control birch leaf miner, and other systemic products for control of insects, such as aphids.

Easy to use, the calibration is done by adjusting the stroke on the injector lever. It is not suitable as a fertilizer injector because the maximum application per stroke is only 1/6 oz. The Kioritz requires yearly maintenance with 1 spare parts kit.

Product is seasonal, so order early.
